Prince Georges is balking at the $15,000 tag on tournaments on the summer tour when cities on the winter trek get the same pros for $10,000. The club is willing to compromise on $12,500 as prize money for the third National Capital Open next year, plus $1,500 for the clinic. The pros played for $12,500 here last year. . . . Capt. Fred Moseley, the all-service golf champion, has been transferred to a new assignment and has resigned from Prince Georges.

Law Worsham, now a clay pigeon addict, took his hand trap to Congressional the other day and challenged Pro Wiffy Cox to a contest. Cox stepped outside the shop, and although he forgot his glasses, he picked up the shot. Worsham, who was wearing his hand device, Cox fired away. He smashed the pigeon, handed the gun to Worsham and walked back into the shop, resting on his laurels. . . . Bethesda Country Club members were promised their new ninth holes would be in play early next summer by Tom Manning at the annual prize presentation dinner at the club. Serge Folk received four awards at the dinner, for the club championship, the medal, the four-ball title and for the lowest competitive round of the year. . . . Col. Ben Schriever is slated to be Don Miller, Kenwood's new Greens Committee chairman, has had news for the membership. He and Jack Athey are planning new sand traps. . . . Bob Fuchs and Bob Hendrickson, golfing buddies at Kenwood, were playing the ninth hole the other day when Fuchs walked about 100 yards ahead of Hendrickson and stood on the apron of the green. Hendrickson yelled for him, but too late, and the ball struck Fuchs in the back of the head. Did Hendrickson, Fuchs' golfing buddy, rush up with apologies and sympathy? No, he calmly replaced the divot, hit the ball to the green from where he bounced, and then said, "Why didn't you get out of the way? That ball would have been right next to the cup."

Congressional Country Club members will have their indoor driving range ready in the gym. The range, closed since 1942, will have four tees and the members can watch the flight of the ball from 20 to 30 yards before it smacks the canvas. . . . Manor Country Club's awards for the best dressed golfers of the season were marked by a tie in the women's division between Mrs. Ed Milans and Mrs. David Lamb. The men's winner was natty Ed Keken. . . . Fred Bolton is in town for the holidays after spending three weeks at his new job at the St. Louis Country Club, scene of last year's National Open. He supervised the remodeling of the golf shop and gave daily playing lessons, twice playing the exacting course in 68. The Northern Virginia Golf

Moore-Sacrey Battle for Lead Marks Women's Pin League

By Ben McAlwee

Trailing by 13 pins, Ingomar (Bing) Moore, Hi-Skor team star, tonight will attempt to wrest from Jessie Sacrey, pace-setting captain of the first-place Brookland Recreation, the individual lead of the Capitol Ladies' League. . . . Miss Moore, bowling for a 118-17 average in 36 games, will see action at Hi-Skor against the third-place Takoma quint. Mrs. Sacrey, who sports 118-30, is still striving to maintain the top spot in a match at Chevy Chase Ice Palace. . . . Jessie Keith, Rocklyn ace, who is splitting the maples at a 117-5 clip, also has her sights on the individual lead.

In other team contests Hyattsville bork at Rosslyn and King Pin at Fort Davis. . . . Handling the front-running Arcade Pontiac of the Major District League its third straight defeat will be the aim of the ambitious fourth-place H. B. Leary aggregation when the crack combinations tangle tonight at Brookland Recreation. Arcade Pontiac, despite losing five of its last six games, owns a two-game lead.

Second-place Caruso Grocery and Schultz Beer clash at King Pin, third-place Mann's Decorators and Hutchinson Furniture collide at Fort Davis.

Villains Pack Card At Turner's Tonight

The big pre-Christmas stratching show goes under way at Turner's Arena tonight, featuring three outstanding windups billing favorite villains of Washington wrestling fans. One feature will find Michele Leone, the Italian wild man, on the job against the former titleholder Babe Sharky, with the result that anything can happen. Another headline hurls roly-poly bad man Bibber McCoy against the 100-pound undefeated string of Wilbur Nead, Jack Dempsey's grapple protegee. In the third of the main tangles, Laverne Baxter, one of wrestling's cruelest, will engage George Macri-costas, the Golden Greek.

Out of these three struggles, the Turner management will pick the wrestler slated for a shot at Gorgeous George in the near future. Laverne Baxter, one of wrestling's cruelest, will engage George Macri-costas, the Golden Greek.

Chamberlain and Bell Seen 'Over Heads' In School League

By the Associated Press

The entrance of Chamberlain and Bell Vocational into the District Public High School Athletic League is causing considerable eyebrow-lifting. Why do these two schools with a total enrollment of 544 desire to compete in a league obviously over their heads?

Forest Powers, athletic director at Chamberlain, readily admits his teams aren't in a class with the bigger schools.

"But we feel we should be included in the league," he contends. "We are a District public high school and want at least the opportunity to play for the title. We play these schools anyway; have been meeting them all along."

Chamberlain played Coolidge yesterday, losing, 67-33. That game and a prior one with Bell will not count in the standings. League competition does not begin until January 7. The two schools will not play any of their games at the Armory.

League Boosted to 10 Teams.
The acceptance of the two schools came at a special committee meeting yesterday at Franklin School and expands the league to 10 teams. Those attending the meeting were Norman J. Nelson, Assistant Superintendent of Schools; Miss May P. Bradshaw, chairman of the High School Board of Principals; Lawson J. Cantrell, Associate Superintendent in Charge of Vocational Schools; Principals Edward D. Reed of Chamberlain and Lester T. Walters of Bell, and Birch Bayh and Hardy Pearce of the Department of Physical Education.

Chamberlain's loss to Coolidge yesterday was its fourth in five starts. Its lone victory was a 32-30 affair over Bell. All 19 members of Coolidge's squad saw action with Ken Luxenberg, the high scorer, with 14 points.

Eastern, Anacostia Bow.
Eastern and Anacostia, two other members of the District Public High League, still are seeking the taste of victory. Eastern bowed, 46-21, to George Washington High in Alexandria yesterday, while Anacostia visited Baltimore City College High and took a 56-34 beating.

Johnny Dauks, West County High, won with 19 points. The Redskins ran up a 26-4 halftime lead and coasted in. It was the third straight loss for Eastern, while Anacostia's defeat was its fourth. . . . In other games yesterday, St. John's stayed unbeaten, with a 51-26 victory over Woodward, Washington-Lee trounced Blair, 47-41, and Hyattsville won over Mount Rainier, 28-18.

Priory hopes to break a two-game losing streak tonight when it plays host to St. Paul's at 6 o'clock, while Anacostia and Bethesda will play their alumni in 7:30 games. Tomorrow finds St. John de Matha at Bladensburg.

Mrs. Spates Heads Golf Committee

The Joneses, Marie and Bobbie,

Mrs. Marie Spates has been elected chairman of the women's golf committee at Prince Georges Country Club, succeeding Mrs. G. R. Levy. Chairmen are restricted to a one-year term. Mrs. Levy was elected treasurer.

Mrs. Tracy Fairchild was elected vice chairman and Mrs. Kenneth Vinton, secretary. Mrs. Fairchild also will serve as tournament chairman.

Mrs. Burton Kintz was appointed District handicap chairman for the club and Mrs. James Kinder chairman of the Wednesday ladies' day events.

Heath and Wendt Monopolize Individual Gridiron Marks

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau topped up its annual single-game and longest-play statistics today, and a constant reader of these dispatches should have no difficulty guessing who hogged the gridiron real estate honors.

Individually it was Stan Heath of Nevada and Fred Wendt of Texas Mines. Heath accounted for four season high marks and Wendt two. Consequently, Nevada claimed three team marks and Texas Mines four for 1948 single-game performance.

Both players and their schools dominated cumulative offensive figures for the season.

On the single-game basis Heath (1) made the most rushing and passing yards, against San Jose State, 337; (2) the most passing yards, 327, against Oklahoma City; (3) the most punts, 106, on one game; (4) the most touchdowns, 22, against Tulsa; and (5) the most touchdowns passes, 5, against Oklahoma City.

Heath was the only gragger to account for 300 or more yards in an afternoon on three different occasions. He also did it against St. Mary's with 306 yards.

New Mexico A. & M. was Wendt's soft spot. His 327 rushing yards against this team was a record, as well as the 42 points he scored—six touchdowns and six conversions, which helped him the year's scoring championship with 152 points.

Two others managed to travel the length of the field three times in a single game. All-America Charley Justice of North Carolina went through and over Georgia for 304 yards, getting 106 on one ground and 198 upstairs. Walker Jones of Wyoming traveled 303 yards against the Colorado Aggies.

Closest to Wendt's 326 rushing yards was Jay Van Noy of Utah State, who ground out 242 against

N. B. A. Keeps Walcott at Top Of List of Title Contenders

Jersey Joe Walcott still should be included in any plans for selecting an opponent for Joe Louis' next defense of his heavyweight boxing title, according to the National Boxing Association. In quarterly ratings of boxers released yesterday the N. B. A. has no logical contender for the big crown, but lists Jersey Joe again at the head of the list of outstanding boxers.

Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the Rating Committee, said in releasing the list that the N. B. A. believes the final selection for a title match should be Walcott or a man good enough to beat Walcott in an elimination fight.

Ezzard Charles also rates high in the N. B. A. opinion. Leading the honorable mention list among heavyweights is Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., who lost on a foul to Bruce Woodcock of England recently. Woodcock was placed tenth in a field that isn't too brilliant.

It was noted that three new champions were crowned during 1948—Light Heavyweight Freddie Mills, Middleweight Marcel Cerdan and Featherweight Sandy Saddler. The N. B. A. also noted that it expects three new champions next year. It figures that Welterweight Ray Robinson and Bantamweight Manuel Ortiz are getting too big to keep their titles. The third isn't mentioned by name, but the implication is that Joe Louis likely will retire after another fight.

Heavyweight—Champion, Joe Louis. Contender, Ezzard Charles. Outstanding boxers—Walter Neff, New York; Ezzard Charles, Ohio; Light Heavyweight—Champion, Freddie Mills, England. Logical contender, Gus Leonard, Missouri. Outstanding boxers—Leonard, Missouri; Archie Moore, California; Bob Battered, Illinois; Lloyd Marshall, California; Doc Williams, New York.

Middleweight—Champion, Marcel Cerdan, France. Logical contenders, Tony Salto, Indiana; Bert Lyell, California; Jake Lamotta, New York. Outstanding boxers—Rocky Graziano, New York; Dave Sands, Australia; Crilly, Delaware; Bolium, New York.

Lightweight—Champion, Ike Williams, New Jersey. Logical contender, Enrique Bolanos, California. Outstanding boxers—Frankie Fernandez, Hawaii; Rocky Graziano, New York; Gene Burron, New York; Tommy Bell, Ohio; Johnny Greco, Canada.

Featherweight—Champion, Sandy Saddler, New York. Logical contenders, Willie

Wise Mum on Reason For Leaving Ohio U.

By the Associated Press

ATHENS, Ohio, Dec. 22.—Harold E. Wise has resigned as head football coach of Ohio University, President John C. Baker announced.

Wise, who made his move effective January 1, gave no reason. He said he had "no immediate plans for the future."

Wise became head coach two years ago when Don Peden, now athletic director, stepped out. His teams won three games each season, losing five and tying one in 1947 and dropping six games this fall.
